Please Note

Abnormal results or bad news

If you choose access to test results, you may see something that you find upsetting or don't understand. This may occur before you have spoken to your doctor or while the surgery is closed and you cannot contact them. Think about whether this is right for you before you sign up. You can change your mind at any time.

I would like to have access to the Online Services to book GP appointments and request repeat prescriptions. I confirm that I understand the importance of keeping my details safe and I will inform the practice if I have any concerns or change my mind.

Request for Coded Record Access

This gives you access to all the coded information in your GP record.

Before you apply for online access to your record, there are some things to consider.

Forgotten history There may be something you have forgotten about in your record that you might find upsetting. If you choose to share your record others will see this too.
Choosing to share your information with someone It's up to you whether or not you share your information with others – perhaps family members or carers. It's your choice, but also your responsibility to keep the information safe and secure.
Coercion If you think you may be pressured into revealing details from your patient record to someone else against your will, you may want to consider not registering for access at this time. If this becomes the case in the future then you need to tell us immediately.
Misunderstood information Your medical record is designed to be used by clinical professionals to ensure that you receive the best possible care. Some of the information within your medical record may be highly technical, written by specialists and not easily understood. If you require further clarification, please contact the surgery for a clearer explanation.
Information about someone else If you spot something in the record that is not about you or notice any other errors, please log out of the system immediately and contact the practice as soon as possible.

Please note, however well you are known to the practice staff, you will be asked to provide photo ID and proof of address.
